The Taxation Act, 2009 defines “entrepreneurial activities” as any economic activity entered into by an individual for profit including, but not limited to: retail operations, manufacturing, trade, entertainment, transport, agricultural, vocational, professional or other services. Income generated through these sources is income from entrepreneurial activities.

Cannot I deduct expenses on capital assets such as vehicles, computers, office equipments, buildings etc.?

No you cannot deduct expenses on capital assets at the time of their purchase but can recover such expenses over time through depreciation deductions.
I did not get it. Could you please explain it further?

Okay. If you buy a car for your business at SSP 60,000 in December 2011, you cannot deduct this amount immediately. But you can deduct 33% of this amount as depreciation each year. Similarly, you can deduct depreciation on other capital assets at the following rates:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>Asset</th>
<th>Rate</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Building and other structures</td>
<td>10 percent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Vehicles, office equipment and computers</td>
<td>33 percent</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>All other property</td>
<td>25 percent</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

It is still not clear. Could you please explain how is depreciation calculated?
According to tax regulations 2011 depreciation for buildings and other structures (i.e. property classified in Category 1) will be calculated for each property separately under the straight line method of depreciation. The amount of annual depreciation deductions will be equal to 10% of the original cost of the property increased by the value of improvements that exceed 5% of the current cost basis of the property.

Is Depreciation calculated in similar way in case of other assets also?
No, all other types of assets are grouped into two categories (pooled) and depreciation is calculated using the straight line method of depreciation as follows:

(i) The amount of annual depreciation deductions for category 2 assets (i.e., vehicles, office equipment and computers) will be equal to 33% of the original cost of the property increased by the value of improvements that exceed 5% of the current cost basis of the property.

(ii) The amount of annual depreciation deductions for category 3 assets (any other asset) will be equal to 25% of the original cost of the property increased by the value of improvements that exceed 5% of the current cost basis of the property.
